This screensaver features beautiful fish in a variety of beautiful poses. Each fish is animated in the background. From time to time a fish will "flash" on the screen for a split second and then fade into the background. Copyright: This screensaver is copyright (c) 1998-2002, Innovative Design GmbH (www.innovdesign.de) Bugs: If you have any problems, please e-mail me (kristian@innovdesign.de). About "Fish Nets" (slow motion): This screensaver uses fish nets which are typical symbols of the deep sea. These fish nets are displayed as single rings (a single fish is meant). If you have a slow enough screen refresh rate, you can see that the fish nets are moving in a "slow motion". About the fish: I designed this screensaver to resemble fish which can glide easily in 3D-scenes. The fish I designed are based on real fish. They move smoothly and do not bump into things and the lighting gives them a realistic quality. Acknowledgements: I would like to thank all those who have made the Fish Nets Screensaver what it is today. Version 2.3: * Improved algorithm to calculate the transparency of the fish. Version 2.2: * The option "use sound" is now available. It can be used to turn on/off the sound which accompanies the fish. Version 2.1: * The option "minimum interval" can be set now. If a value is given, the interval between flashing is at least as long as the given value. Version 2.0: * The option "flickering" is now available. If this option is activated, the fish will flash at regular intervals. Version 1.3: * The "use mouse" option is now available. This can be used to toggle the use of the mouse in the screensaver. Version 1.2: * Improved algorithm for the transitions from between the fish (gliding in 3D). Version 1.1: * The delay for the slow motion is now customizable, too. * The window can be minimized.
